Issue 7: September-October-November 1998

the tour has ended

Well as I write this we are just about to perform our 40th show on this tour. I must admit, I wasn't sure if I would have the strength to get through this... but here we are. Thanks to your support we are about to finish up our first world tour.

I am so proud of our family - the crew, our band and management. We have all gone through so much and are now changed forever because of our experiences together.

I am looking forward to a long awaited BREAK. Goodbye for a while!! See you when we have something important to say.

Love
Duran

THANK YOU SO MUCH FOR YOUR CONTINUING LOVE AND SUPPORT. WE HAVE HAD SO MUCH OF A RISE SO FAR WE HAVE VISITED ALMOST 30 COUNTRIES AND HAVE EXPERIENCED SOME AMAZING THINGS. ALL IN ALL IT HAS BEEN FUN! IF WE EVER MEET SO MANY OF YOU AT OUR SHOWS, THANKS FOR COMING!

EDS ENTREE

Well here we are with the Number 7 issue of the Fanzine, the third for 1998. Welcome to all new members!

In this issue, we have more news on the North American tour in the Recent Happenings section, pictures from the road (including the now infamous tour bus), your letters and poetry, more great competitions... and much more!

We are very pleased and excited to announce our very own Fanzine website where you can view lots of candid shots of Savage Garden, you will be able to purchase merchandise. (Available exclusively to Fanzine members.) Should any of your friends wish to join the fanclub, they may do so via the website at www.sonyatgardenfan.com (At time of going to print some sections of the site were still under construction so keep an eye on it for updates).

We also have two very special offers for members only. These may be of particular interest to our overseas members. Roadshow Music Australia have kindly made available to us, a limited amount of stock of the (deleted) 'UNIVERSE' single to sell exclusively through the fanzine. This single has only been released in Australia and New Zealand and is unavailable anywhere else. Included on the single are the tracks LOVECANMOVEYOU and THISSIDEOFME. (This is the only place you will find these two recordings). Both of these 'B' tracks were included at the concert. So, if you would like a copy of this single for your collection, be sure to order early as we are sure they will go quickly!

We have also managed to acquire a limited number of 'The Future Of Earthly Delires' Tour Book. (Sold at some Australian concerts). Details for both of these 'once only' offers are on this page.

The entries for our 'PoArTtry' page were great! The standard was so high, it was very difficult choosing the ones we included in this issue. Please understand, we couldn't choose all of them. If your poem or artwork didn't make it this time, it may appear in a future issue.

See you next time - and don't forget to send in your photos, letters, PoArTtry and reviews, we love getting them, and you never know, yours may be included in a future issue of the fanzine. EA

exclusive

Roadshow Music Australia have made available a limited number of the 'UNIVERSE' single for sale to FANZINE members only. This single has been deleted so you will be the first to buy it in the shops. Other tracks on this rare only offer are LOVECANMOVEYOU and THISSIDEOFME (This is the only CD where you will find these two tracks)

VIDEOS

With regards to the long needed Savage Garden video!

Unfortunately, for Australia and New Zealand, we don't have full details of what will be on it yet. It is only in the early planning stages. BUT.. we can say that Roadshow Music will be releasing a video for Australia and New Zealand around Christmas this year that includes previously unseen footage, all of their video clips and an interview with Darren and Daniel. That's all we can say about it at the moment.. SOME OF THESE DETAILS MAY CHANGE!

For the rest of the world, we can say with a fair amount of certainty that Sony will be releasing a video in or around October. Among other things we have heard that it will contain clips of I Want You, To The Moon and Back, Truly Madly Deeply, Break Me Shake Me, Tears of Pearls, and Santa Monica (Hard Rock Live bonus track for Japanese release only). Please remember that these details may also change!

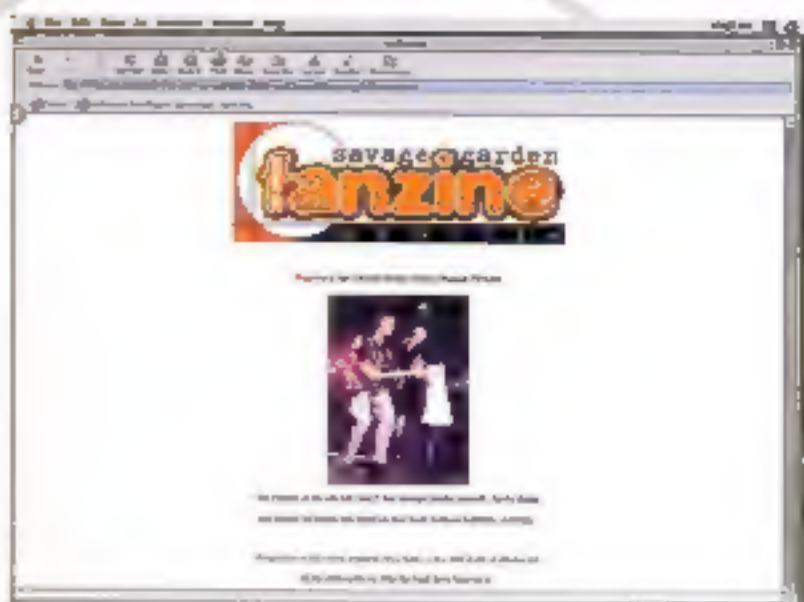

If you are moving, please remember to advise us of your new address and new telephone number as soon as possible. If you fail to do this your next fanzine will be posted to your old address.

PICTURE pp PERFECT

Have you ever been on the internet? Chances are that you have, if you haven't, either you live in an area that is too remote to have access or you have spent all your spare time listening to your Savage Garden CD's. Anyway, if you have been on the net, you probably dedicated a large piece of your time online looking up Savage Garden. You may have found some cool sites and interesting facts about the band but never came across anything to do with the fanzine, well, that has all changed. We are all very pleased to announce www.savagegardenfan.com. This is the website for The Official Savage Garden Fanzine.

www.savagegardenfan.com

We have tried to make the site both informative and entertaining for members and non-members alike. On here you will find photos taken from Darren's very own digital camera (that we are unable to print very successfully in the fanzine), hotlinks to the best Savage Garden sites on the web, all our merchandise and membership details. You will have the ability to purchase merchandise, join a friend or even renew your own membership simply by typing in your details and submitting them to us. In the future we may also include some of the overflow artwork and snapshots that our members send in (and there is always overflow). We consider the website to be in it's infancy and will welcome any suggestions you may have. So check it out and bookmark it as it is sure to be upgraded next time you re-visit it.

Recent Happenings

the continuing adventures of savage garden

Well it has been a busy three months for Savage Garden and as you read this issue of your fanzine, they will have just commenced the first real holiday they have had in over two and a half years.

Their concert tour of North America concluded at the Kentucky State Fair on the 28th August, 1996, and although it was 2 months of solid travel on a tour bus, 42 shows, and countless meet and greets with fans, record companies, prize winners, friends of friends etc...etc... both Darren and Daniel have said that it was one of the best times they have ever had, and that they thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

Their first show of the North American tour was in Chicago for the 806 radio show with Boyz to Men and Mariah Carey. After that came Minneapolis, then Canada for four incredible shows in Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver. The Canadian audiences were said to be very cool. Very into the music and very very loud!

Travelling on a tour bus was a first for all of them, and they discovered that it was actually far more luxurious than schleppling about to airports, waiting in departure lounges and flying from one destination to the next. On the bus, they merely finished the show and slept overnight in their bunk beds while their bus driver, Andy, took them to the next destination. Mind you, the tour bus was first class, it had two separate lounge areas, one of which had a tv, video, stereo system and Sony playstation. There were twelve bunk beds, each with their own individual television, and a kitchen that was constantly stocked with food. Picture a semi trailer, and you will probably have the size of it. Darren and Daniel said it was like being members of the Partridge Family, and at times it felt very domesticated... sometimes, their bus driver even went as far as to prepare their meals!

The tour enjoyed really positive reviews and capacity crowds in venues that seated between 3,000 to 7,000 people. One of the favourite shows for the band was in Las Vegas, where they performed at a venue called THE JOINT, which is situated in the Hard Rock Hotel.

This show had a fantastic atmosphere (especially as the Vegas crowd are not afraid to show how much they are enjoying themselves!), but even more cool, was the fact that the entire show was broadcast simultaneously on the world wide web.

Being in a town in the middle of the desert, with all the fakeness, the money, the theme parks, the opulent hotels, the high rollers, the money... the bankruptcy... and the overall feeling of insanity, every cell in their bodies told them to PARTY... which the members of Savage Garden did, straight after the concert. They all went out dancing and rumour has it that Daniel's mother was actually seen 'shaking her booty' 'til the wee hours of the morning with them! Go girl!

Darren and Anna experienced their scariest moment in Vegas, when they went on 'The Big Shot' ride on the roof of the Stratosphere Hotel. We are talking a near death experience... this is not recommended if you have a fear of heights!

Another show highlight was Red Rocks, Colorado. The setting was amazing, and the weather made for a major part of this. There was thunder and lightning, and

Although it rained the entire show, the 7,000-plus crowd stayed in the wet. Barron kept thinking about CD's "Under A Blood Red Sky" Live Album, which was recorded there, and he has said that it looked the same as it did all those years ago when he was sitting in his lounge room watching the video of it. Anyway, there was a very big deal for him.

And the tour continued throughout July and August. From Salt Lake City to Detroit, to Washington (where they were made to feel at home when the Australian Embassy visited them at a soundcheck and treated them with gifts from Oz) to Missouri, to Boston, and then to New York. New York is always a city where excitement never sleeps. The first show Savage Garden did there was a private show for the Elite Model Management, and the audience was full of celebrities including Jerry Seinfeld. But, undoubtedly, the highlight of the New York shows was the Beacon Theatre gig.

Billie Myers, who supported Savage Garden throughout their tour, is a good friend of Madonna's, and knowing what a huge fan of hers Darren is, she told Madonna that Savage Garden often performed 'Ray Of Light' during their soundchecks. Madonna mistakenly thought that they played 'Ray Of Light' during the actual concert, and had her assistant ring Darren and Daniel's management to ask them at what point in the show they performed it. She said that she had a dinner engagement the night of the Ocean Theatre show, but that she wanted to catch some of it before the dinner, and she wanted to see the part where they performed her song. Well, needless to say, they did a quick rehearsal of the song and inserted it into the acoustic section of the show. Sure enough at 8.00pm Madonna turned up, looking very understated and without a massive entourage, watched Billie Myers and stayed until mid way through the Savage Garden concert when they broke out of 'Promises' and into an impromptu version of 'Ray Of Light'. Darren and Daniel did not meet her, but their production manager told them that she was over grooving away and enjoying himself. They later found out that she really liked their stripped back version of "Ray of Light".

Their last official performance in the USA was on the recent premiere of The O'Jen Show (which aired on the 7th September in America). This is the third time they have appeared on Rosie, and this time they sang TO THE MOON AND BACK, which is still going strong in the charts over there. Actually, and way through the tour, it was announced that Savage Garden's worldwide record sales had hit 8,000,000 - not bad for a band who have only released one album!

Aside from performing on the floor, the band did get to have some spare time. One of their latest obsessions is Golf. Onnas, who is a natural athlete and great at any sport he puts his hand to, became the master of the game and Daniel (who tells anyone he speaks to that he doesn't play team sports) was the only one that did not become hooked on golf (or even play for that matter). Daniel has in fact decided that when his career as a pop star ends, he will become a pro golfer. (In his dreams!) Actually, if he doesn't become a pro golfer, he could easily become an Alligator Hunter! We've been told that on their day off in Myrtle Beach, Florida, Daniel and the rest of the band stole a golf buggy and sped around the resort dodging snuffins and trying their hardest to find some alligators. All they discovered were endless signs saying "ALLIGATORS AND WILDLIFE. PLEASE DO NOT FEED THE TALKING ALLIGATORS. THEY ARE HARMLESS WHEN

HUMANS...

Another favourite pastime of the band is tarpin bowling. Once again Damer declined to play (stating fashion reasons this time), whilst Daniel proved to tell and sundry how many strikes he could make in one game. That's about the extent of the wild lives that this band led on the road.

So, now that the tour has FINALLY ended, after 60 shows and countless countries, Garner and Barker are relaxing. Garner is back home in Brisbane working on the recording studio he is having built for himself, and taking some time off to go snow skiing and boating, and Darren has stayed in the USA to party at the MTV Music awards and to have a holiday with some Aussie friends.

In October they will both be in Australia to make an appearance at the 1998 ARIA Awards. Last year they won 30 ARIA Awards, and this year they have been nominated for 4 Awards - BEST AUSTRALIAN GROUP, PRODUCER OF THE YEAR (Charles Fisher - Universal), HIGHEST SELLING ALBUM, and they are the recipients of the 1998 OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT AWARD. The Awards ceremony will be going to air in Australia on Channel 10 on the 20th October.

They have also won an Australian RAWARDS (Radio Awards) for the MOST PLAYED AUSTRALIAN ACT on commercial radio. This award was accepted by their record company on their behalf on the 12th September.

As you all know, they can't wait to start writing and recording the next album - so it all seems quiet over the next few months - don't despair. It just means they are busy putting together the next record for you. We will hopefully have the first single of this record released in March 1999.... and then the promotional and touring rollercoaster starts all over again!

Burst of Bittersweet & Sour

The bitterness blends well with the betrayal of break me shake me.
The feeling of hopeless abandon reaches to the moon & back.
The brooding tune of a thousand words rings in well, with the sweet and heart-felt romance of truly, madly, deeply.
The light teasing note of I want you, really sweet, like chlo-a-cherry cola.
There are so many places to go Santa Monica, Universe even to the moon & back.
Let Darren and Daniel take you.
There's just about anything on a Savage Garden CD.
Whatever mood you have.
Only, you'll just have to know the colour that you want(violet).
And you shouldn't go making all those promises, you know you cannot keep.

Sheri Lynn Rague

What More Could Be Said?

What more could be said,
about a band so fine?
With talent so rich,
with music so divine?
What more could be said,
about their attitude to fame?
They treat it so politely, not conceited but as a game.
What more could be said,
about their roaring?
Each of us hungry lions,
reaching out with hungry hands.
What more could be said,
about a band with such good will?
With the power to give happiness, to excite and to thrill?
Nothing more can be said,
for perfection is hard to describe.
May this duo remain always,
and keep our dreams alive!

Divya Ramkumar

To Darren...

I tried to tell you everything,
On that unforgettable day.
The words came rushing out,
But it wasn't what I wanted to say.
We had our photo taken, and my poster signed.
I smiled at you as emotions flow around my mind.
We spoke of your haircut,
And you laughed in your gorgeous way.
I closed my eyes and wished it could always be this way.
It was the most important thing I had to do,
Oh how it kills me now.
I didn't tell you how much I love you

Lauren Campbell

The Savage Garden

The world is savage garden,
Full of hurt, anger and emptiness.
No-one to turn to when the going gets tough.
Nowhere to look when people are rough.
Then out of the sky came two gags, fulfilling their dreams to become stars.
Playing their tunes for all to hear, taking away the hurt, anger, emptiness and fear.
Filling our hearts with happiness and joy,
Darren and Daniel are those two boys

Lisa Cavallaro

Sing

Do you sing for me?
Or three million other girls?
You say everything I want to hear
You make me love you
You make me obsess
You make me long for your embrace
You brand your name on my weak, tender heart,
Never coming back to heal the wound
It aches when all hope is gone
Then you sing again and burn my desires.

Breanna Pottinger

To Darren (2)...

I know this might seem stupid,
this might not even seem real.
But how in two words can I say how I feel?
I was totally amazed at the concert that night, and I was totally sad when you went out of sight.
They say you can't love someone as I do,
but I can and will if only you knew.

Garden Delite

I remember it a dream, that seemed to be real,
visions of two angels, that stood completely still.
One that seemed to melt you,
with just a tender smile,
And the other had a velvet voice,
that made you wanna cry.
Surrounding them were roses, standing completely strong,
unbending and unfailing,
to prove that they belong.
I was there with them,
for a short amount of time,
but I will never will forget,
the love I felt that night.
The players in my dream,
are finally coming true,
you're forever in my heart,
and I belong to you.

Cris Short

Thanks To A Thousand Words

I was lost in a pit,
So deep and so dark,
Thought escape was impossible,
Til they ignited a spark.

From that first jolting note,
And the truths they told,
it grew into a flame,
More precious than gold.

My eyes suddenly opened,
My mind cleared of doubt,
Forgiveness prevailed,
Hated thrown out.

Thank you to the men,
who helped me to see,
That I can live without him,
Now I'm feeling free.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q: How would you feel if an artist wanted to release a remake of one of your songs? (Mike Takemura Q2)

Darren: We wouldn't have any control over it - so I guess I'd just have to accept it and hope that they did a good version.

Daniel: There actually has been a Latin American artist who recently released a cover version of "Truly Madly Deeply" - which has become quite successful there. I think it's an honour to have anyone listen to our music and like it enough to want to play it themselves.

Q: Why was the name of the tour changed in America to "To the Moon and Back Tour"? (Dexter Bennett Q1, Canada, Oke Beach Press.)

Darren: Daniel: To coincide with the release of "To The Moon And Back" single in the USA.

Q: Everyone goes wild at concerts but what's the craziest, most obsessive thing a fan has gone to for you? (Jenna Korman Q10, Oke Beach Press)

Darren: Two fans once bought bootleg backstage passes and posed as friends of the band in Canada. That's about as crazy as it has been!

Q: To Darren: What is your natural eye colour and do you ever wear colour contacts? (Natalie Brown Q2, Laura Jakes Q10)

Darren: Blue - no I've never worn contacts.

(Multiquestions with a similar answer)

Q: What are some of the things you are both committed to the most right now? (Marta Trevino Q1)

Darren: When will your next album be out?

(Belinda Turner Q10, Kelly B. Schmitt Q2)

Daniel: Katherine Singer France, Jessi Hoffer Kirk

Briggs, Andy H.C. and many more!

When will the first single off the album be released? (Kelly B. Schmitt Q2)

What is next for Savage Garden?

Daniel: We are planning to go into the recording studio in late 1998 and hopefully we'll have finished the album with a single to release by March 1999... but... don't hold us to that!

Q: Will it be released around the world at the same time? (Laura Jakes Q10, Portugal)

Daniel: Darren: Yes

Q: To Darren: Do you have any nicknames? (Natalie Lundgren Q10, Norway) Why were you given the nickname "Doe" and what does it mean?

(Dane Capling Q10, New Zealand)

Darren: When I was born my father thought I looked like a little bulldog, apparently I was quite a chubby baby. It was gradually shortened to Doe and Doe, but really only my immediate family and closest friends call me that - I wouldn't feel comfortable hearing it from anyone else.

Q: What is the significance of the cover on the Australian "Universe" single. Did either of you design it? (Dane O'Leary Q2)

Does it symbolise anything? (Natalie Lundgren Q10)

Daniel: There is no significance, other than creative artwork from the Roadshow Music Art department.
